Ms. Kellie Menefee

Dear Ms. Menefee,

After review of your file, I regret to say that we will not be able to provide legal representation related to your personal injury case because the insurance company denied your claim and we are not able to file a law suit. See enclosed a copy of your file.

Accordingly, neither myself nor my staff will be taking any further action on this matter. This decision is based on our opinion that the risk in pursuing this matter further outweighs any potential benefit to be gained. Please note that the statute of limitations for bringing a personal injury case is two years from when your cause of action accrued, but there are a few limited exceptions, such as a six-month notice requirement for municipalities, other notice requirements for counties, the state and federal government, time deadlines in insurance policies, and shorter time limits in other jurisdictions. If your claim is not filed within the proper time period, it is forfeited. If you have any questions, I would recommend that you consult an attorney as soon as possible.

While we are no longer representing you in this particular case, we wish you the best in the times ahead. Please feel free to contact us in the future should you need our services in connection with representation in any new or different matters.

With kindest regards, I remain,

Very truly yours,

Jazzell Carter

Entity Name: Walmart Inc.

Dear Ms. Barbani:

As you know, Walmart Claims Services (WCS) administers liability claims on the behalf of the Walmart family of brands and their insurers. I want to thank you for the courtesy that you extended to me as I investigated and evaluated the claim arising from your client's injury.

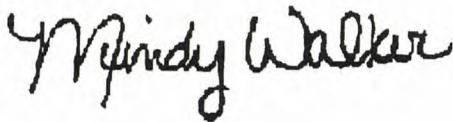

In assessing your client's claim, WCS has carefully reviewed the facts relating to the incident and the information you have provided to WCS. WCS's investigation and evaluation of this claim indicate that the storekeeper was not at fault for your client's injury. Therefore, we must respectfully deny your client's claim for liability payment.

If you have any additional information or other facts that you feel may change our decision, please provide such facts to us for review. WCS reserves the right to continue its investigation and to consider any and all facts revealed in that investigation.

Should your client pursue litigation, WCS hereby formally requests that a courtesy copy of the file stamped complaint be sent to our attention within ten days of filing.

If you have any questions concerning my decision, please contact me at your convenience.
